

High low 80s
Low near 55

Current temperature: 84°F

DAILY NEWSBulletin

Current Fire Danger Rating:

Very High

Wednesday, July 10, 2002

New on today's Bulletin Board

Wellness Center offers
Food for Sport class

YMCA hosts youth
wrestling camp in August

Computer Corner news

Bulletin Board
Calendar
Director's News
Cafeteria Menu
Commuter's Corner
Job Openings
Reader's Forum NEW!
Research Library
Road Closures
Official Documents
More News

Previous Issue

Search

Newsbulletin Archive

Got a news tip
for the Newsbulletin?
Click here.

Free firewood available as part of Cerro Grande Fire Rehab project

Logs suitable for use as firewood are chopped, split and stacked in preparation for the Cerro Grande Fire Rehabilitation Project's firewood giveaway program. Parties interested in picking up free firewood can register at firewood@lanl.gov online and will be notified by phone when and where to pick up their load of wood. Every Friday the CGRP releases the wood at its firewood distribution center near Technical Area 16. To date, more than 1,100 cords of split forewood have been given away. On average about 60 truckloads are released each week.

Wood cleared from Laboratory property that is unsuitable for the Cerro Grande Rehabilitation Project's giveaway program is burned in an Air Curtain Destructor, a system that uses a special configuration of blowers to aid in the burning process and reduce the production of smoke and other particles. The system consumes approximately 20 tons of wood per hour. Currently more than 2,200 acres of Laboratory woodland have been thinned since November 2001. The CGRP's goal is to eventually thin more than 10,000 acres. Photos by Kevin N. Roark, Public Affairs

Other Headlines

Laboratory honored for GIS accomplishments more...

Ergonomics expo is today more...

Cobb testifies in Congress on Lab's contributions to homeland security more...

New health and wellness program focuses on family more...

Starlab focus of this week's museum Summer Adventures in Science program more...

Deadline extended to Friday for nominations to new Diversity/Affirmative Action Board more...

Free firewood available as part of Cerro Grande Fire Rehab project more...

Questions? Contact the Newsbulletin at newsbulletin@lanl.gov or 667-6103.

Los Alamos News Letter | Dateline: Los Alamos | The Laboratory Connection | DOE Pulse | DOE This Month | News Releases